

WAGING NONVIOLENCE

PEOPLE-POWERED NEWS & ANALYSIS

How Standing Rock solved my 2016, First World problems

by Andy Bichlbaum

Feeling defeated by 2016, I went to Standing Rock seeking a post-Trump formula for resistance. What I found was far messier, but no less practical.

Read on »

Hundreds of peace activists are marching from Berlin to Aleppo

by Sarah Aziza

Amidst rising Islamophobia in Europe, the Civil March to Aleppo aims to drive international attention toward the civilian cost of the ongoing war in Syria.

Read on »

20 years after peace accords, Guatemalans resist remilitarization of everyday life

by Jeff Abbott

The 20th anniversary of Guatemala's peace accords comes as activists push back against the creeping of post-war militarization and challenge neoliberalism.

Read on »

 Like on Facebook

 Follow on Twitter

 Website

Have you seen what we're giving away?

Get a copy of "This Is an Uprising" by Mark & Paul Engler or "Viking Economics" by George Lakey when you become a member of Waging Nonviolence, starting at \$5/month. You can also choose from a bunch of other books and DVD's starting at \$3/month.

Home

Conflict

Culture

Regions

Issues

Series

Columns

Blog

Experiments

About WNV

Support WNV

Copyright © 2016 Waging Nonviolence, All rights reserved.
You are receiving this email because you signed up at our website.

Our mailing address is:

Waging Nonviolence
PO Box 380196
Brooklyn, NY 11238

Add us to your address book

unsubscribe from this list update subscription preferences

